The banks now hold $17,594,400 in excess of the requirements of the 25 per cent, rule, The New York Financier said, Saturday: "The statement of the associated banks of of New York for the week ending Nov. 2 shows an increase in the reserve of sation of the movement of money, or at least a counterbalancing of it, which has been going on uninterruptedly for so many weeks. The amount of funds shipped to the interior has been decreasing rapidly since the first week of October, and for the week | Trade Slower-Prices Firm, Except in just ended the receipts of currency at New York exceeded the outgo. The banks gained $707,000 in cash during the week, the unusually heavy increase of $1,057,100 in specie being offset by a loss of $350,100 in legal tenders. The contraction in loans continues, the decrease for the week being 31 .-

leaving the total $529,862,400." Exports of specie from the port of New York for the week amounted to $129,355 in gold and $877,900 in silver. The imports were: Gold, $8,845; silver, $47,100; dry goods, $2,406,527; general merchandise, $8,396,271.

Total sales of stocks were 110,404 shares, including the following: American Sugar, 29,900; American Tobacco, 6,600; Atchison, 11,300; Burlington, 6,600; Chicago Gas, 3,400; Louisville & Nashville, 3,100; Missouri Pacific, 5,300; Rock Island, 3,600; St. Paul, 9,700; Tennessee Coal and 1ron, 2,900.

The stock market Saturday opened quiet and depressed. An effective attack was soon made by the bears, with the result of causing a general decline in prices. The reaction continued in force until near the end of the last hour, when on the covering of shorts a fractional rally occurred, which ing as follows: imparted a firmer tone to the closing. The powerful influence of foreign interests in the stock markets of the United States has been forcibly illustrated by the events of the past week. Diplomatic difficulties between the great powers of Europe brought about a mild but ineffective war scare. Therefore, English consols and French rentes, the unfailing barometers of the European financial situation, dropped in price. In London the south African mining stocks tumbled; in Paris there was a drop in the same securities and in Turkish and in Berlin, a contraction in the value of bank shares; in Boston a reaction in copper stocks was noted; in Philadelphia, a slump in Electric shares, and in New York there was a sharp readjustment in the valuation of nondividend paying railway and other securities. In a word, the declining tendency of the week received its impulse from abroad, and its accelerated force from the activity of the short interest and liquidation as margins became exhausted. The condition of business throughout the United States was excenent, Railway earnings and bank clearances show increases the movement of spring wheat at the head of the lakes is unprecedented in volume, as is the output of pig iron; the fear that the winter wheat crop would be a failure is dissipated by heavy rains from Texas to New England. Cotton is slowly rallying from the great break of a fortnight ago and the declining receipts at the interior points appear to confirm the low crop estimates. Foreign exchanges remain firm, being kept below the gold export point by supply of bills, which seems to be forthcoming just when necessary, and not before. Our exports other than cotton continue favorable, while imports are still large. Silver bullion has been steady and it will be interesting to note what amount, if any, Japan will invest in the white metal of the $40,000,000 that has just been received on account of the Chinese indemnity. The volume of business in stocks for the week has been greater than for some time past, but the details of the movements in individual securities reflects little or nothing of importance as a rule. The dividend-paying stocks have been noticeably firm and the weight of the reaction has fallen, in most cases, on the nondividend payers. railroads. Reading declined anticipation of a heavy assessand closed with a net loss 4% per cent. The other anthracite coalers also declined sharply in sympathy and also on liquidation. Other noteworthy declines were in Burlington, Louisville Nashville, Missouri Pacific and Wheeling Lake Erie preferred. The breaking off of the negotiations between the Panama railroad and the Pacific Mail Company had a depressing effect on the price of the stock of the last-named concern. In the Industrials, General Electric declined 64 to 294 per cent., with a final rally of 2 per cent. Officials of the company say that business is good and profess to know of no legitimate reason for the drop. Tobacco receded 4½ per cent. on the continued fight in the industry, but subsequently rallied 1½ per cent. on covering of shorts. Sugar lost 3 per cent. on reports of lower prices for foreign and domestic product. The usual inferences relative to the assembly of Congress were made as likely to unfavorably affect the company. Changes not elsewhere mentioned were declines in Pittsburg. Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis preferred, 4½ per cent.: Wells-Fargo Express, 5; Mo-bile & Ohio, 3¼, and Louisville & Nashville, 2% per cent. Pennsylvania Coal advanc Metropolitan Traction, 5%, and Starch Heavy sales of Atchison made Saturday, and were at-Sharp ensued and the other classes of speculative bonds sympathized, although the losses were less important. > Quiet and Weakness Ruled in All the Other Markets-Provisions Were a Trifle Firm with Pork.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.- The enormous deliveries of wheat in the Northwest again acted as a drag anchor to that market to-day and as a reflection of this condition of affairs the market ruled dull and weak throughout the session, fluctuating within very narrow limits. The only matter of news out of the regular routine was Attorney-general Moloney's application for an injunction to restrain the licensed elevator men from doing something or other. The precise scope of the desired restraining order was not generally understood, and, therefore, although it might turn out to be of material consequence, the trade inclined to wait further light before permitting it to influence trading. It was, however, generally understood that the court would not take any action which would be retrospective or interfere with transactions or contracts already entered into. The fact that there has been no rain yet of consequence in the winter wheat belt was lost sight of in view of the big Northwestern deliveries and the bearish sentiment got the ascendency and kept it. December sold early at 591/sc, but gradually sold off to 58%c, closing at 58%c. May sold from 631/2c to 63c, closing at 631/2c.

Corn was quiet and weak, the near-by futures showing the most decline. November sold off nearly %c from the opening, but the May weakened less than %c. The recelpts of new corn continue liberal, as the weather in the interior is still favorable and weather in the interior is still favorable and farmers seem disposed to take advantage of it to rush their grain in. There was little demand and holders sold freely. November sold early at 291/40291/4 split, but fell to 281/4c. May sold from 291/40291/4c split, to 29c. At the close November was 281/4c and May 291/4c.

Oats were quiet and inclined to weakness, but there was not much actual decline. May sold at 201/4c to 201/4c at the close s.t $9.1716. January lard sold at 5.671/2@5.70c Estimated receipts for Monday-Wheat, 550 shippers and exporters having been very light on account of dullness in East and foreign markets. Canning stuff has sold particularly badly and old cows sold at the lowest prices of the year. The stocker and feeder trade continues active, and shipments of such stock from here last month were the largest on record. Fully 34,000 feeding cattle were shipped out over Western railroads alone, against 30,000 in September, and in addition 50,000 were shipped to Eastern points.

For hogs to-day there was a good demand generally, and most of the offerings were disposed of, prices being largely 5c lower. Sales were principally at $3.65@3.75, choice heavy prime butcher weights and choice assorted selling close together. Packers have been operating freely this week but shippers have not been taking their usual numbers. Stocks of meat are on the increase, and this tends to keep hogs cheap. Good hogs weighing from 220 to 300 lbs sell the best. The best hogs sell at $3.75, against $4.75 a year ago, $6.52% two years ago, $5.75 three years ago, and $4.30 four years ago.

The few sheep offered to-day were soon disposed of, prices ruling largely nominal at $1@3.60 for natives, $1.75@3.10 for Westerns and $3@4.40 for lambs. MRS. BESANT'S CAREER.

The Successor of Mme. Blavatsky, Who Will Visit This Country. Chicago Times-Herald.

Since the death of Mme. Blavatsky, Mrs. head and front of the theosophists. The theosophist may believe anything with regard to religion, but the vast mass of them agree on one point, and that is that the great religious teachers were men who had reached perfection through having lived many lives on earth, and that they con-stitute a secret brotherhood, from which many lives on earth, and that they con-stitute a secret brotherhood, from which members are sent at intervals to teach hu-been able to get at the man who had struck him. In some parts of that remark-able Commonwealth the practice still premanity. As Mrs. Besant is said to con-template a third visit to the United States in the near future, it may be expected that the agitation of the peculiar religious theory will soon take on new life. Viewed from any aspect, Mrs. Annie Be-sant is a strangely strong woman. Born in 21,300 bris; exports, 4,900 bris. Market dull | England, of Irish parents, her childhood was spent in an atmosphere of pure relig-ion, and, upon attaining the age of young womanhood, she was of an exceedingly devotional nature. With a strong inclina tion for the cloister, she was diverted from the purpose of seeking seclusion in a nunnery by the belief that she could accomplish more for religion by marrying a clergyman and at twenty she became the wife of Rev. Frank Besant, brother of the novelist, Walter Besant. She soon discovered that her usband's life did not conform to the lofty ideas of perfect religion which she had formed, and resented the disappointment by not only refusing to go to church, but by resisting his authority as a husband, and finally becoming a heretic. The result was a separation, then a divorce, and, after that, all sorts of trials and troubles for the woman, which culminated in making her a leader among the Socialists of London, a co-laborer with Charles Bradlaugh in pro-mulgating the doctrines of infidelity, and subsequently the disciple of and then the successor of Mme. Blavatsky as the leader and teacher of theosephy.

Mrs. Besant has had a troubled life, and it must be said that she has borne her trials will penetrate to the interior of "Old Kenwith much fortitude. Her association with Bradlaugh, which was maintained without interruption until his death, resulted in ostracism from society and all sorts of condemnation from conventional people. But she pursued her course unm this, and even in the face of the tearful protestations of her mother, whom she dearly loved, and who is said to have died of a broken heart because of the actions of the daughter. It was through Mrs. Moncure D. Conway that she became acquainted with Bradlaugh, and through William T. Stead that she subsequently met Mme. Bla-But Mrs. Besant's life has not been barren of good results. She became the cham-pion of the poor in London, and by her tongue and pen did much toward ameliorating their condition in life. She procured for the overworked and underpaid match girls such reforms in their work and wages as materially improved their condition. It was due mainly to her agitation that John Burns was given a seat in Parliament, and under her guidance the working people of London were organized, with the result that many improvements in their social condition followed. During this period of her labor she stood one night at the head of an army of workingmen in Trafalgar Square and when a regiment of soldiers charged upon her force with fixed bayonets she stood her ground, remarking they had a right to be there. Her bravery won for her the admiration of all England.

After this Mrs. Besant became the pupil of Huxley, and under his tutorship studied science and philosophy. She first visited this country in March, 1891, and delivered several lectures. In 1893 she made her secon visit as a delegate of the theosophists in the Congress of Religions at the world's fair. Her contemplated visit is for the pur-pose of delivering a series of lectures in the leading cities of the country.

THE MARRIAGE FEE.

A Rather Uncertain Quantity in the Experience of Many Ministers. Cincinnati Times Star. The question as to how much to pay the preacher who pronounces the marriage

mony is one that has more or less disturbed nearly every man whose sensibil ties are not blunted and who has trem held a trembling hand before the altar and promised to love and cherish. It is one which is now probably preying upon the mind of the ninth Duke of Marlborough. The fortunate preacher who is to say the word next month is scarcely human if he is not looking for a check that will have the dimensions of a handsome fortune. The marriage fee and the marriage dower will be expected to sustain something like harmony. If they do, the magnificent John Churchill estate will have to be mortgaged, or else the bride will pay the fee by proxy. In striking contrast with what the preacher in the case probably expects is what an an expectant Presbyterian preacher in Norristown, Pa., received a few days ago. This particular preacher performed the marriage ceremony for a couple who, to save the expense of a big wedding, had called at the parsonage and at its conclusion received. pense of a big wedding, had parsonage, and at its conclu-from the smiling groom a se After the new Mr. and Mrs. had left th

SENATOR IN A FIGHT

MR. BLACKBURN'S FACE SLAPPED BY LIEUT. YOUNG, OF THE NAVY.

Attempts to Keep the Affair Secret Prove Futile and It Is Now Food for Gossip-Kentucky Row.

Washington Special in Chicago Post.

Speculation on the election results it the several States next week has taken full possession of the politicians in Washington. Nothing else is talked about. There is more or less betting on the outcome, but the cheaper mode of discussion is the more popular. The poor guessers in such pursuits only lose their opinions. Each particle of news or gossip relating to the campaigns and the candidates is greedily seized upon as a theme for discussion and recital. For some reason, Senator Blackburn is attracting even more than ordinary attention just now. The opinion is gaining ground that even if the Democrats should win in Kentucky by a decisive majority in the Legislature he stands a good chance of defeat. He has been pursuing a rather unmanly course of late in his campaigning and has aroused the bitter hostility of many of Mr. Carlisle's friends, who would otherwise have been disposed to hold their peace and refrain from active opposition. Recognizing in Mr. Carlisle the man who may become a competitor for the Senate, his speeches lately have been full of insinuations and innuendo directed against the distinguished statesman. He even went so far as to be interviewed when in Washington two or three weeks ago, giving public utterance in that way to a statement that the Secretary dared not appear again upon the stump in Kentucky. If Secretary Carlisle had not been a most forbearing man he would certainly have reappeared on the dark and bloody ground and have given the windy Senator a game he would not soon have forgotten. But if the Secretary is forbearing, one, at least, of his friends showed that he had no appetite for that sort of business, and in a personal altercation with Blackburn at Chamberlin's in this city, he slapped the distinguished Senator's face and punched his nose in true pugilistic

The affair occurred about three weeks ago, and has been kept until this time a profound secret. Within the last day or two, however, the story has been passed around among officials in Washington as too good to keep. For a Senator of the United States to have his face slapped and his nose smashed is a new departure in the social usages of Washington, and one very naturally calculated to produce considerable ex-punchee as being a happy conclusion of a most unpleasant event and he, too, was will-

Lieutenant Young is not nearly as heavy as the Kentucky Senator, but he is handy

Senator Blackburn's most terrifying feature, however, is his voice, When it was in its prime it was as thunderous as a lion's roar.

still enshrouded in mystery to some extent, but it is no longer a secret that the slapping and punching was done by Lieut. Lucien Young, a very well-known and very flery young naval officer of Kentucky birth. The encounter grew out of a political discussion, in which Senator Blackburn is reputed to have used intemperate and personal language. Hot words followed, and then a slap and a blow. The big Senator was so startled that he was some time a day to ladies of education and good aprecovering, and before he could rush in on his antagonist and annihilate him friends interfered and the combatants were dragged apart. That was all there was of the encounter, but it was enough. Senator Blackburn had been assaulted and his face slapped, and he had not returned the blow.
